FIELDS NOMINATED

For Congress by Democrats of Ninth District.

Contest Decided on First Ballot at the Convention at Carlisle on Wednesday.

Delegates from all the thirteen counties composing the Ninth Congressional district of Kentucky met in convention at Carlisle, Nicholas county, on Wednesday of this week. William J. Fields was nominated on the first ballot, receiving 61 votes. 56 were necessary to a nomination. Edgar B. Hager received 49 votes.

Fields went to the convention with 51 instructed votes. Lewis and Rowan, whose delegates were uninstructed, voted for Fields, giving him more than the necessary number.

Fields received the votes of Lawrence, Carter, Bath, Rowan, Bracken, Fleming, Greenup and Lewis. It was a harmonious and enthusiastic convention. All the defeated candidates pledged their hearty support to the nominee. Mr. Fields made a speech that captivated the gathering and increased their enthusiasm and admiration for him. He was placed in nomination by John M. Waugh. G. W. Castle, of this county, made a seconding speech that called forth much applause.

Mr. Fields is from our neighboring county of Carter. His winning race indicates very strongly his hustling and popular qualities. He is a clean man in every way and his election is freely predicted on all sides.

Disturbing Religious Worship.

The attention of the coming grand jury is called to the statement made by our correspondent from Jattie to the effect that prayer meeting and class meeting at that place had to close because of disorderly conduct on part of neighborhood toughs. One hundred dollars fine and six months in jail ought to put an end to such conduct.

In a Serious Condition.

Miss Alice Cochran, of Fallsburg, who has been in very poor health for several months, was brought to the hospital on Friday last for treatment. She is far advanced in tubercular peritonitis, and on the advice of Dr. York she returned home the following day, as she could be well cared for there. Her condition is serious.

LIGHTNING AT VAN LEAR.

Barn and Five Mules Consumed by Flames Yesterday.

D. K. Bartram, of Ft. Gay, informs the News of the serious damage done at Van Lear on Wednesday night. During the big storm which raged about midnight a barn and five fine mules, the property of the Van Lear Coal Co., were destroyed by lightning. The damage amounted to about fifteen hundred dollars.

Uniform Courses for Schools.

Rural schools of Kentucky are to be placed on a uniform basis and the course of study will be the same in every school in the State. This was determined upon at a meeting of the State Board of Education. It was also determined to have a uniform certificate or diploma for the high schools of the State and all diplomas in the future will be issued by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction instead of by the county authorities.

The high schools have been standardized, but no provision had been made for issuing diplomas to the county high school graduates. This was covered by the action this afternoon and the graduates of the county high schools will get the same diplomas as graduates of any other high schools. The action of the board of education in adopting a uniform course of study for the rural schools was the most important action in some time, as it means that the schools of the State will teach the same thing, no matter whether the school is located in Hickman or Pikeville.

The board also fixed the amount of the bond which must be given by each of the book companies which have secured contracts to supply books to schools in this State. The bond of the American Book Company, which has the largest number of contracts, was fixed at $5,000, and the other companies graded according to the amount of business done in this State. The board also passed on the course of study provided for by local trustees of some hundred high schools that have been or will be established, accepting them as legal high schools upon the approval of the course of study.

Midshipman Austin.

Under date of July 22, Midshipman W. D. Austin writes from the United States Military Academy, Annapolis, Md., subscribing for the News. In his note Mr. Austin says: "My original home is Lawrence county, my present home is in Johnson county, where I was appointed as midshipman to the United States Naval Academy. I entered this institution June 22, 1910. The young man will no doubt 'make good.' This is the usual record of the boy from Big Sandy."

FIELDS CARRIES LAWRENCE.

Democrats of This County Hold Large Mass Convention.

Pursuant to a published call the Democrats of Lawrence county assembled at the court house, Louisa, Ky., on Saturday, July 23, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Congressional convention to meet in Carlisle, Nicholas county, July 27. The convention was called to order by County Chairman A. O. Carter, and was organized by electing Augustus Snyder chairman and R. L. Vinson and Dr. G. W. Wroten secretaries. A committee on resolutions was appointed, representing the three candidates seeking the nomination for Congress. This committee reported resolutions to the effect that the convention approve the call for a convention, and that candidates be voted for by forming lines on leaders in the public square, the committee naming the leaders and the tellers to be appointed by the committee. The report of the committee was adopted. On a call for nominations H. C. Sullivan nominated Edgar B. Hager, of Boyd, Robert Dixon nominated W. J. Fields, of Carter, and J. Q. Lackey nominated Mordecai Williams, of Boyd, as candidates for instructions to this convention. After voting in the manner prescribed by the committee on resolutions, and after the announcement of the vote by the tellers, the chairman declared that as W. J. Fields had received 164 votes and E. B. Hager 132 votes, Mr. Fields was entitled to receive first instructions. The vote for second instructions was taken in the same manner as the first, resulting in 207 votes for Williams and 295 for Hager, and the chairman declared Mordecai Williams entitled to the second instructions of the convention. All good Democrats who desired to attend the district convention were made delegates. The convention then adjourned.

Judge Burns Was Buried Friday.

The funeral of Judge John M. Burns, whose death was chronicled in this paper last week, was held in the Baptist church, Ashland, on Friday last, and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Burns, M. S. Burns and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Burns were of the number from this place.

They Were Married.

The marriage of Miss Lila Burl Porter to Harry Sammons, a Missouri Pacific locomotive fireman, was solemnized last night at 8:30, at the home of the bride, 219 West Sixth street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Y. Campbell, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme in the dining room being pink and white and in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, green and white. After the wedding, a sumptuous dinner was served, nearly thirty guests, all relatives and intimate friends, attending.

The bride received many beautiful presents, among them being a chest of silver from her sister in Portland, Ore., and also many pieces of hand painted china and cut glass.

The couple will go to house keeping at once, at the home of the bride's mother—Sedalia (Mo.) Exchange.

Half Million Dollar Coal Deal.

Pottsville, Pennsylvania, capitalists who control the Majestic Collieries at Majestic, Ky., just across the river from War, W. Va., on the Norfolk and Western according to well authenticated advices are preparing to spend $500,000 upon their land and operation. A new steel tipples, one of the most modern in the district, is now under construction, and the improvements are to be added at once. When these are completed the company will have a daily output of forty cars which is among the largest in the lower field.

This company controls a coal area of about ten thousand acres, on which development has already disclosed several very fine veins measuring from five to eight feet in thickness. It is understood to be the policy of the management to push the work as rapidly as possible and increase the initial output of the property.

Remember the Institute.

The farmers of this section should bear in mind that the institute will be held in Louisa on August 10-11. It is for their benefit, and will not cost them a penny. Vital topics will be discussed by experienced men and women—subjects in which men who make a living by cultivating the soil should be deeply interested. Previous farmers' institutes in this county, some of them at least, were flat failures because of a lack of interest on part of those who would have been helped if they had attended the meetings. Another failure should not occur.

Olive Hill Postoffice Robbed.

The postoffice at Olive Hill was entered by robbers Saturday night who blew the safe with nitro-glycerine and secured about $400 in money and stamps. They overlooked about this much more in stamps and registered letters. They broke into a blacksmith shop near by and secured the necessary tools which were left on the scene.

Leg Broken in Mines.

Lysander Cole, 29, single, of Floyd county, while working in the Middle creek coal mines, suffered a broken leg. He was near a car, and his right leg was caught between the car and a drum. He was placed on a train and brought to Riverview hospital for treatment. He is doing very well.

Will Give a Dance.

On next Tuesday evening the young men of Louisa will give a dance at the Rink. Wrights' saxophone orchestra, of Columbus, has been engaged, and a most enjoyable occasion is promised. The invitations have been issued.

Emulate Her Example.

A young woman living not far from this place picked and sold over $26 worth of blackberries. We commend her industrious example to the idle ones of both sexes.

JUDGE R. F. VINSON

Dies Suddenly at His Home Near Louisa.

Heart Failure Brings Death Unexpectedly, After Slight Indisposition of a Few Days.

On last Friday afternoon, July 22nd, as Sheriff James Clayton was riding to town he saw former County Judge R. F. Vinson lying by the side of the Lick creek road, not far from the gate opening into the Eloise farm. He dismounted and asked the Judge what was the matter. Judge Vinson said he was very sick but felt a little better. Mr. Clayton asked him if he should go for a doctor. He said "No, not now," but later he asked Mr. Clayton to go to Louisa and get medical aid. Mr. Clayton came to Louisa as quickly as possible and informed Judge Vinson's sons who were all here, of the condition of their father. They hurriedly summoned physicians and started for the place where the Judge was. Dr. G. W. Wroten was the first physician to arrive at the Judge's side, and later Dr. J. C. Busey also arrived. The sick man seemed to be better than he was when first discovered, and after the administration of restoratives he rallied considerably. He said he felt no pain except in his stomach, had a regular though rather feeble pulse, and said he would go home, not half a mile distant. He walked to a buggy, got in and thanked those who had helped him, and was driven home. He got out of the buggy and walked to the house, but very soon grew greatly worse. Physicians were immediately sent for, but the Judge died before any of them arrived. He suffered no pain, and his active, busy life ended peacefully and without a struggle.

The direct cause of death was probably heart failure, superinduced by heat, indigestion and excitement and worry. He had not been well for several days, the weather had been intensely hot and humid, and he had been active in promoting the candidacy of the man who had married a granddaughter. All these things had combined to impair the strong human machine, already worn with the activities of seventy-two busy years. At a critical moment a vital part of the machinery broke; it was beyond human repair, and it stopped forever.

When it became known that the mortal career of Judge Vinson had so suddenly ended the regret in this community where he had lived so long was pervading and sincere. Many friends hastened to the Vinson home to express their sympathy and offer aid. The funeral and interment occurred on Sunday afternoon, the funeral at the home of the deceased and the burial in Pine Hill cemetery beside the remains of his wife, who had been dead many years and whose death was almost as sudden as his husband's. The services were conducted by the Rev. F. F. Shannon, of Brooklyn, who was in Louisa on a vacation. Other ministers were present, one of whom, the Rev. W. L. Reid, of the Southern Methodist church, offered prayer. The floral offerings were many and very beautiful, some of them from other places. The services were held in the large yard in front of the last earthly home of the dead Judge, and a very large number of friends and relatives came to pay respect to the man whom they had known so long. All the children of Judge Vinson were able to be present. Mrs. Vic Prichard was visiting her sister, Mrs. Dora Greener, of Graham, Va., but the sad news of the father's death had reached them and both arrived home in time for the burial. These, with Mrs. A. J. Garred, George, Jay and "Little Dick," comprise the children. Z. C. Vinson, of Catlettsburg, was here, and he and K. F. Vinson, of Louisa, are the surviving brothers. Mrs. George Hutchison, of Huntington, was in attendance, she and Mrs. Sarah Johnson being the surviving sisters. Mr. Hutchison accompanied his wife. Judge Vinson had numerous relatives by blood and marriage in this section, and all who could possibly attend the burial were here.

Judge Vinson was born in this vicinity in March, 1838. He began the activities of life at a very early age, and they never ceased until he was stricken by death. For many years he was clerk of both the county and circuit courts, fulfilling those positions in the best possible manner. Later in life he took up the practice of law, and a few years ago he was elected judge of the Lawrence County Court, serving his single term acceptably. He was an active, honest, sober, manly, forceful and positive in character. He was popular with all classes and conditions of men. He was devoted to his children, and these in turn were devoted to him. By these and hosts of other relatives and friends Judge Vinson will be greatly missed and sincerely mourned.

Ban on Ice Cream Cones.

Prosecutions against manufacturers of ice cream cones containing borax are to be instituted by the Government under the pure food law.

Large seizures of cones were made recently in different parts of the country by inspectors of the Department of Agriculture. Analysis of the cones seized disclosed the presence of borax, a property which has been held to be deleterious to the human stomach.

Inspectors will continue to make seizures wherever cones are found containing borax.

Manufacturers using borax contend that this ingredient is to make the cones hold their shape.

HORRORS OF THE FLOOD

As Experienced by the Wife of Congressman John W. Langley.

Mrs. Langley, wife of Congressman John W. Langley, was visiting at the home of Mr. Langley's mother, at Spurlock, Floyd county, on the night the terrible washout was visited on the people of the Upper Middle creek and Licking river sections, and relates a most harrowing experience.

This occurred on Sunday night, June 26, which was the night of the cloudburst on Licking river and Middle creek. There was not a man about the Langley premises on that night, who might have relieved the situation—just she, her little daughter Katharine, the elder Mrs. Langley and a servant girl. At 3 a. m. Mrs. Langley was awakened by her mother-in-law coming to her room and telling her they were all about to be swept away. The Langley home is in a valley, and when she got out of her room, clad only in her night apparel, she saw by the flashes of lightning that the house was surrounded by water. She rushed to the front door, opened it and was swept from her feet by the wild rush of waters that swept in at that instant. Retaining remarkable presence of mind, she scrambled to her feet, gave little Katharine to the maid, grasped her mother-in-law by the arm and headed for the barn, which was on a promontory above the house, and swirling water coming near taking them off their feet many times. The house by this time being filled to quite a depth. They reached the barn and succeeded in bringing a horse and a cow, belonging to the family, from the valley below. Her own fine horse Kingston, followed trying to soothe her by rubbing her with his nose and nickered knowingly just as though he understood the situation. By the flashes of lightning they saw all kinds of debris, houses, stores, horses, cattle and many other things which showed that terrible havoc had been wrought. And, worst of all they plainly saw the dead body of a little six-year-old child, which was doubtless that of the missing Gayheart child. The Langley home was partially shaken from its foundation, but was not swept away, the furnishings were all submerged and everything left in a bad condition.

Inspector for High Schools.

It is planned to have an inspector for the high schools of the State and also an inspector for the rural schools. The men selected will be high class educators and the salaries will be enough to warrant a good man in accepting a position. The salaries are to be paid by the General Education Board, but the inspectors work under Prof. Regenstein and will have desks in his office. Their work will be to inspect the schools of the State and improve them by instruction and advice to teachers and to the city and county school superintendents. They will spend most of their time traveling about the State on inspection trips and looking after the interests of the schools, so as to standardize the high schools and raise the efficiency of the common schools. The selection of the two inspectors for this State will be made by Prof. Regenstein, Dr. Rose and Dr. W. A. Buttrick, of New York. A meeting of the three will be held within the next few weeks, when the selection of the inspectors will be made.

Friction in School Matters.

Pikeville, Ky., July 22.—There is considerable contention in regard to the public school. Prof. T. M. Riddle and his assistant, who had charge of the school the week prior to the institute, and had been hired by the Hatcher and Pinson wing of the board of trustees, were commanded by the other wing to surrender the school to Mrs. R. W. Elliott and her assistant. They opened the session as usual this morning, and Mrs. Elliott and her assistant also appeared on the scene and endeavored to assume control, but soon gave up and left the building, saying they would resort to the law. Prof. Riddle, who is in charge, has had charge of the public school here for many years, and is doubtless the foremost scholar in the county, with the exception of his brother, Prof. J. I. Riddle. Mrs. Elliott, who would supersede him, is also possessed of rare scholarly attainments, and this contention is to be regretted exceedingly.

Made Good Chairman.

Chairman John W. Woods, who presided over the Democratic convention Saturday afternoon, made an excellent presiding officer. Though a young man he demonstrated his ability as a parliamentarian and guided the hosts through the battle with an unerring hand and lauded the craft in safety though for a moment it looked as though there was going to be a storm of unusual proportions. The Democracy of Boyd county and Eastern Kentucky are likely to hear some after from Mr. Woods, other than to enjoy the honor of presiding over a county convention.—Tribune.

The Georgia State Senate passed a bill declaring the drinking publicly of intoxicating liquors on passenger trains a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Ira G. Rawn, president of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville railroad (The Monon Route), died of a bullet wound at his summer residence in Winnetka, fifteen miles north of Chicago early. Members of his family say he was killed by a burglar.

Elton, Tex., July 22.—Henry Gentry, a negro, 18 years old, paid the penalty of his crime, murder and presumably intended assault, at the stake tonight while two others, a brother of the man lynched, and a companion charged with implication, missed a like fate only through the pleadings of Sheriff Burke and several citizens.

Lightning struck the Silas Baptist church, near Leesburg, Ky., Sunday at the conclusion of the Sunday morning service. The pulpit was split in twain, two women were probably fatally burned and a horse hitched to a wire in front of the church, was killed. Prompt work saved the church building from being destroyed by fire.

Forest fires, which are sweeping over the north and eastern parts of Wisconsin are hemming in numerous towns and one village has already been destroyed. The losses will reach into the millions. The residents of Heinemann, the village burned, fled from their homes shortly before the town was destroyed by fire. Gleason and Bloomville are in imminent danger.

Fort Monroe, Va., July 21.—Eleven artillery men are dead and a number of others seriously injured, including two officers, as the result of the blowing out of a breech block in a twelve-inch shore gun at the De Russy battery, during the coast artillery practice here today.

The accident happened while student officers were endeavoring to sink a fleet of towed targets, representing an imaginary hostile fleet proceeding toward Washington. The battery was under the immediate command of Sergt. Harry Hess, of the Sixty-ninth Company, United States Coast Artillery.

For over an hour, while thousands of persons looked on, members of No. 1 hook and ladder company stood on the roof of the house of Mrs. Lee Cohen, at 617 S. Eighth street, Louisville, and under the direction of two physicians tried to resuscitate John J. Eckenrode, a fireman for the Kentucky Electric Company, who had been shocked while at work at the top of a pole, but their efforts were within avail. The man died while they frantically worked with him. Twenty-two hundred volts of electricity had passed through his body yet he was still alive when the limp body was lifted from the electric pole.

Mrs. Ana M. Nicholson, of E. Winchester avenue, Ashland, widow of the late Harrison Nicholson, celebrated her 99th birthday last Tuesday, July 12th. Mrs. Nicholson was born in Lewis county July 12, 1809, and though nearly a century old, she is as active of mind and body as one of three score years.

In a special session the West Virginia Supreme Court refused to grant an appeal from the decision of Circuit Judge Burdett dissolving the injunction previously awarded the Chesapeake and Ohio, and prohibiting the State officers from enforcing the two-cent fare law. Under the decision of Judge Burdett the railroad must refund excess fares over the two-cent rate and comply with the two-cent law.

Richmond, Va., July 2.—Special. An official circular issued by President Frank M. Whitaker of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, of Indiana, shows the following appointments have been made effective July 15.

E. W. Grice, General Manager.

F. J. Cabell, Chief Engineer Maintenance of Way.

Both of these officials will have their headquarters in Richmond, Va. This means that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has taken official charge of former Chicago-Cincinnati and Louisville Railroad and will physically operate this road hereafter. As far as known now these are the only changes to be made.

NEW LAW MISUNDERSTOOD

Circuit Judges Do Not Fix Definite Sentences for Criminals.

Now that the law making indeterminate sentences take the place of the fixed sentence is effective, there seems to be a general misconception of the effect and also of the operation of the act. The general opinion seems to be that the trial judge determines the sentence and must impose what he believes to be a fair and just penalty. Such is not the case. The law fixes the sentence and the judge merely sentences the convicted man to the number of years provided in the statutes, fixing the term at not less than the minimum provided in the statute and not more than the maximum.

For instance, if a man is convicted of voluntary manslaughter, the judge does not fix the number of years he shall serve in the penitentiary. The judge sentences the convicted man to from two to twenty-one years in the penitentiary. He has no option but to fix the sentence in that way, and the question of how long the convict shall serve rests with the Prison Commission. He may be released at the end of two years or he may have to serve twenty-one years, the latter sentence being imposed where the convict does not show signs of reformation.

Another thing that has mixed up people is the application of the new law to crimes which were committed prior to the new law becoming effective, but where the trial takes place after the new law is in force. Judge Parker of Lexington held that in such cases the defendant can elect whether he will be tried under the old law, leaving to the jury the question of fixing the sentence or the new law making the sentence indeterminate. He holds that the new law is a just fact and cannot apply to a crime committed prior to its becoming effective unless the defendant chooses to have it so apply.

But as to crimes which are committed after the law became effective there can be no doubt. The new law applies and the sentence is indeterminate, never being for a definite period, except where the punishment is death or confinement in the penitentiary for life. In capital offenses the jury fixes the penalty, and not the law or the judge. The jury says that the penalty shall be either imprisonment for life or death. In other cases, however, the law fixes the term of sentence and the judge merely directs that the law shall be carried out. It is believed here that the new law will work well when it is understood.

The Ohio Valley Exposition.

Farmers and manufacturers all along the lines of the Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio will be represented in the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24 inclusive. Already these railroads are sending fruits and farm products of all kinds to Cincinnati to be put in the cold storage plants and kept in shape for the exposition. A sufficient amount of these products is being shipped to provide for fresh exhibits throughout the entire exposition. The products of the various manufacturers as well as timber and mining products are being prepared in Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio for shipment to be exhibited there. All the railroads are making special rates for this exposition and the farmers as well as business men everywhere are appreciating the great advertising advantages offered them in this exposition. These two railroads are doing all in their power to aid the various sections in benefitting by this exhibition. Mr. G. B. Wall, Assistant to the President of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, and Mr. F. H. LaRue, of the Norfolk & Western, will gladly give any intended exhibitor all the information they desire as to how to prepare and ship their exhibits. The railways' part in this work is purely in the various communities along the line.

LETTER FROM JUDGE BOGGS.

An Interesting Article in Regard to the Road Question.

To Editor of the News:

I desire to have an additional article published through your paper in regard to the road question. As you remember some time ago I made my position in regard to the roads as clear as I could, but still I am interviewed day by day, to do something for this or that road. After talking with the fellow a while he admits that his road has not had a day's work done on it for two or three years, and I then ask him about an overseer on his road. Yes, John Smith is our overseer, but says that he will not work the road as there is no law to punish him for refusing. Now, Mr. Overseer, I want to put this matter up to you pretty strong and will do so by referring you to Section 4319, Kentucky Statutes. After you have been legally appointed and served with a copy of order, then for any failure on your part to do any of the requirements of the above section for each offense may be fined from five to fifteen dollars, recovered by warrant issued by Judge of the Quarterly Court, or by indictment by the Grand Jury.

Now, as I before stated, all able bodied men between the ages of eighteen and fifty years will be required by you, the overseers, to put in six days work of eight hours each, and the courts cannot act until overseers put in their time and report, and you must do this. Now, I suggest that all of the overseers of the county begin work on the fourth and fifth of August 1910. Also on the eleventh and twelfth of same month and year this will make you four days, and then make your report. I suggest this early date from the fact, the farmers will have their crops done by this time and another reason, it has rained so much that the roads everywhere need work.

Now, you gentlemen that are over 30 years old please don't forget to go out with your teams and help the boys when they do work and everybody go talking and planning from now on until your overseer makes his call and then all come out armed to do good work and do it, if you will before cold weather again Lawrence county will have good roads all over the county.

NOTICE TO TRUSTEES.

Notices have been sent to about fifty school districts this week where elections are to be held. With the notices I have sent nominating petitions and certificates of eligibility, which it is the duty of each trustee to furnish the candidates and see that they are properly filled out, and returned to the County Clerk, at least 10 days before the School election, which will be held on Saturday, Aug. 6th, 1910.

It is very important that elections be held in each district, where the present trustee's term expires, and the responsibility of holding the election, in a large measure, is with the present trustee. All the notices for holding the election will be sent to him, and it is his duty to post them immediately, and to be at the voting place with the ballot box, promptly at the time for holding said election, and if the officers appointed to hold the election, for any cause, are not there on time, others should be elected to take their places, from the voters present.

The election officers must furnish the successful candidate with a certificate of election, and he must be qualified, and have his certificate of qualification on file in this office not later than 10 days after the election, at which time he assumes the duties of the office, the old trustee retiring. The law compels me to meet with each Division Board within 30 days after the election, to organize the Board, by electing new officers etc., and each newly elected trustee must qualify previous to this meeting, and be present, or the Division Board will elect a man to take his place.

I am very anxious to meet with all the trustees at this meeting. No one is eligible to hold the office of trustee, who is either a Federal, State, Municipal or County officer, or any of their Deputies.

A failure of the sub-district trustee to post notices, or in anywise to neglect his duties in holding school election, will subject him to indictment, and he will be reported to the grand jury.

Any trustee calling at my office will be furnished with a copy of the new school law, and a trustee's record book.

LOST $1,900

Cash Swept Away From One Man by Recent Licking Valley Cloudburst.

One of the unfortunate citizens living in the Licking river valley in Magoffin county lost $1900.00 in cash in the recent cloudburst. He had the money deposited in a trunk at his home when the mighty flood of water swept down upon him and carried away the building and all its contents. None of the money has been found.

An hour before the catastrophe he would have laughed at anyone who suggested danger of losing this money. You who are keeping money on your person and about your homes feel as secure against loss as did this man, but you don't know what is going to happen. It is always the unexpected that happens. You are invited to deposit your money in this Bank where it will be safe.

A Reliable Remedy CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 66 Warren Street, New York.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Hon. A. Floyd Byrd, of Winchester has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress of the Tenth Congressional District to oppose Congressman John W. Langley, the Republican candidate.

There is no excuse now for any able bodied man to be out of work. Harvest is on hand, corn and tobacco fields are overran with weeds, while other farm work is pushing and farmers are willing to pay good prices for competent help.

J. B. Bennett, present Representative in Congress from the Ninth Kentucky district, was renominated at the Republican Convention at Maysville without opposition. Bennett has served two terms in Congress, being elected by a close margin over Democratic opponents on each occasion.

The Maysville Ledger says: "A lady in Washington found a ground squirrel in her parlor that hadn't been opened for some time recently." How often do they open ground squirrels in Washington? And if it hadn't been opened for some time recently, how long ago had it been opened recently?—Cynthiana Democrat.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE.

Louisa People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attend by a sensation of stinging. The back aches constantly, head aches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Louisa proof.

William G. Shannon, Maple St., Louisa, Ky. says: "It gives me the greatest pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys annoyed me and a heavy cold which settled on these organs, caused intense pains across the small of my back. The kidney secretions passed irregularly, were scanty and filled with sediment. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them and the contents of two boxes relieved me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BUCHANAN.

School began at this place July 2th with a large attendance. Several scholars from other districts are attending.

Dr. F. F. Hatten, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is able to be out again.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Prichard, of Mavitt, were visiting home folks here over Sunday.

J. R. Compton was a business visitor in Catlettsburg Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Layne, of Ashland are visiting their parents here.

Marion Hopson of Portsmouth, is home on a vacation.

Earl Chapman and family, of Ashland, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Liny Layne.

L. B. Compton and children, of Portsmouth, are visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Compton.

Death has again visited our vicinity and taken from us one of our best neighbors, Mrs. Nana Hatten, aged 52 years. She was a loving wife and kind mother and loved by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Hatten was conscious until the end. She called her family and friends to her bedside and told them she was ready to die. She had been a true and faithful member of the church for about 15 years.

All Summer Merchandise is being closed out at Special Prices.

This is the time of year that we offer our stock of summer goods at a big saving in price. It is a good time to get a good article for a little money. Many of these offers are as low in price as one half; some one third reduction and many more can be bought at a saving of one-fourth from the real worth of the items offered. Note a few of the offers.

ALL WASH SUITS AT HALF PRICE.

Notice to Teachers.

The Lawrence County Teachers' Institute will be held in Louisa, in the Auditorium of the College Building, August 8-12.

Prof. M. O. Winfrey and Miss Grey, of Middlesboro, will be the instructors.

According to the present school law, all persons holding certificates must attend the full session of the Institute or the Superintendent must revoke their certificates. The State Superintendent calls special attention to this Statute and says it must be complied with. And I wish to say now that this provision of the law will be enforced to the letter.

The law presumes that a notice given the Trustee is a notice to the Teacher and every one residing in the district.

Every trustee is cordially invited to attend a part or the full session, and all others interested in the Common Schools.

Nothing but a sworn statement from the teacher, accompanied by a certificate from a physician will excuse a teacher for non-attendance.

There will be some interesting lectures and Evening Entertainments. This is notice to any one holding a Lawrence county teacher's certificate and failing to attend the institute, to appear at my office on Saturday, August 13th, to show cause, if any, why his or her certificate shall not be revoked, as required by law.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

JAY O'NEAL.

County School Superintendent.

FORGIVING AND BEING FORGIVEN.

Matthew 18:21-35.—July 31.

"If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you."—Matthew 6:14.

ST. PETER'S query, "Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him, until seven times?" is a query that comes to many. It is a question that at some time and in some manner or form is quite sure to come to all the followers of Christ. Imperfect ourselves and surrounded by others who are imperfect, we continually have need to exercise mercy, benevolence, forgiveness. There is something in the human mind which naturally appreciates justice and takes special note of injustice done toward us. It is also remarkable how many people take a delight in meting out justice to an offender against the law. It is this spirit which has been noted in mobs. Men and women and children work themselves into a very frenzy, as advocates of justice, in expressions against a guilty wretch who escapes the clutches of the law and a just penalty, and insist upon taking vengeance into their own hands. It would appear that many of those who participate in mobs have at times been guilty of nearly or quite as great crimes as those which they reprehend in another and would punish. It would appear that there is a craving in the fallen flesh to do violence to another, or to see violence done, if only there could be an excuse for it on the score of justice. Alas, poor creatures, how wrong such a condition of heart, how reprehensible in the sight of God! And yet those who thus wrongfully give loose rein to their passions, quiet their own consciences, at least, by concluding that they are viewing the matter like God, loving justice and hating iniquity.

It is true that Justice is the foundation of Divine Government—that God is just; but it is also true that God is loving and kind, and that he accepts to himself the very name of love, for "God is love." Such should learn that to be in the Divine likeness is to govern one's self and one's course by the rules of justice, but to measure the course of others by the rule of love and sympathy, generosity and forgiveness.

In answer to St. Peter's question, our Lord said that we should forgive a brother not only seven times, but seventy times seven. What a breadth of generosity is here suggested! How it tells us of the loving mercy and forgiveness of him with whom we have to do! But let us remember another statement of this same matter, where it is implied that before the forgiveness is granted, it is to be at least desired, if not sought. "If thy brother trespass against thee seven times in a day and seven times in a day shall say, 'I repent,' thou shalt forgive him"—or to the extent of seventy times seven. We must even assume that the Lord meant that in our hearts we should already forgive the brother his trespasses, even though we might wisely wait to express our forgiveness until his attitude manifested some desire for it. The disciples of Christ are to be continually in the attitude of generosity and filled with the spirit of forgiveness as is the heavenly Father ready and waiting to be gracious, and under proper conditions, to manifest that readiness.

To illustrate this matter the Master spoke a parable. He said, "The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain King which would take account of his servants" (vs. 23). But, as we understand him, he meant that the church at the present time is the embryonic Kingdom and is being dealt with by the Lord after the manner of the illustration in this parable. It is not therefore an illustration of God's dealing with the world. He is not dealing with the world at all. He is not calling them his servants in any sense of the word—only believers, consecrated ones, occupy this favorable position of Divine relationship and only these are meant in the parable. Furthermore, the parable does not even consider the church on the score of original sin. It is not the thought that original sin may be cancelled on account of prayer. The penalty for original sin needed to be paid, not by the prayer of the sinners, but by the precious blood of Christ. But after having our sins forgiven through turning from sin and faith in Christ, and through consecration to the Lord and begetting of the holy spirit, then we are his servants, and the parable relates to those only.

The first servant mentioned in the parable had been very derelict as a servant of God. As a follower of Christ he had come far short. The time of reckoning came. He realized it and besought Divine favor and mercy, promising to do all he could to make up for the deficiencies. He was heard; the sentence upon him was stayed. But when he went forth to find a fellow servant who owed him a trifling sum, and would have no mercy upon him, his master was very angry and declared that he, too, must be harshly dealt with and receive no mercy, because he had shown none to his fellow-servant. His lord's words were, "Shouldst not thou also have had compassion (mercy) upon thy fellow servant even as I had mercy on thee?" And his lord "delivered him to the tormentors until he should pay all that was due." The amount due would not only any part of the penalty of original sin, but merely the penalty for the short comings of the transgressor as respects his covenant relationship, as a servant who was also a debtor from the time he became a servant.

The Lord's words concluding the parable are, "So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother his trespasses." In another text our Lord indicates the same thought in different words, saying, "If ye forgive men their trespasses your heavenly Father will also forgive you."

The purpose and object of our heavenly Father in thus dealing with us seems not clear to all. It is not that he wishes to retaliate. It is not that he would say to us, "If you are mean towards others I will be mean towards you." Rather the lesson is this, "I am kind to the unthankful; I have been very gracious to you in the forgiveness of your original sin and in accepting your consecration to be my servant and in bringing you into my family, but I have called you into this position for a special purpose and you will not be fit nor be prepared for the service I desire for you unless you learn the lesson of forgiveness and generosity; hence, for your sake I make the rule that I will be no more generous to you and your imperfections than you are generous toward your brethren in their imperfections. I do this in order to teach you a great lesson which cannot be so well learned in any other way. What I am seeking in you as my servant is perfection in my character-likeness. You are inclined to look at the justice of my character and to copy it and to deal severely with others who are your debtors. I wish to make clear to you that the greatest elements of my character are illustrated from the standpoint of my love and sympathy, my kindness and forbearance. Because I desire you to progress in this character-likeness and so come to the position where I can use you in my service more abundantly, therefore I rule that you must be forgiving and gracious one toward another even as I have already been gracious toward you, and even as I propose yet further to be gracious to you, if you will abide in harmony with my spirit of love and seek to walk in my way. I am ready to forgive the loving and generous who are seeking to copy my character, I am ready to be kind and generous and forgiving to the greatest degree."

"The kindest and the happiest pair
Will find occasion to forbear.
And something every day they live
To pity, and perhaps forgive."

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

If I Should Die Tonight.

The following poem, the author unknown to us, is fit to stand beside "Home, Sweet Home." How exquisitely is the longing and need of human sympathy and love set forth. It is easy enough to think kindly of people when they have become angels in Paradise, but we seldom appreciate their love and forgive their short comings when they stand by our side, battling with the roughness and temptations of this world:

"If I should die tonight—
My friends would look upon my quiet face.

Before they laid it in its final resting place.

And deem that death had left it almost fair.

And laying snow white flowers against my hair.

Would smooth it down with cheerful tenderness.

And fold my hands with lingering care—

Poor hands! so empty and so cold to-night.

"If I should die tonight—
My friends would call to mind with loving thought

Some kindly deed the icy hand had wrought;

Some gentle word the frozen lips had said.

Errands on which the willing feet had sped.

The memory of my selfishness and pride.

My hasty words would all be put aside.

And so I should be loved and mourned to-night.

"If I should die tonight—
Even hearts estranged would turn once more to me.

Recalling others days remorsefully;
The eyes that chill me with averted glance

Would look upon me as of yore, per chance.

And soften in the old familiar way.
For who could war with dumb unconscious clay?

So I might rest, forgiven all tonight.
"Oh, friends! I pray tonight,
Keep not your kisses for my dead, cold brow"

The way is lonely—let me feel them now.

Think gently of me, I am travel-worn
My faltering feet are pierced with many a thorn.

Forgive Oh, hearts estranged, for give, I plead!

When dreamless rest is mine I shall not need.

The tenderness for which I long to-night.

Don't imagine because things are not coming your way in large sized packages that others are not experiencing the same trouble. There are always plenty of others in the same boat and sometimes their boat has more holes in it than the one you occupy. Keep a brave heart and struggle on with determination and hope of reaching the climax of all undertakings.

Our Young Men.

Among the subjects of anxious thought with elderly people is that of the future well-being and competency of our young men to step into the places of trust and power soon to be vacated by those who now hold them, but whose white heads and stooping forms clearly indicate the near setting of the sun of their lives.

Elderly people of intelligent and unselfish hearts, always rejoice to see young men making wise and energetic efforts to secure merited promotion in any legitimate line of business. It is a mistake to suppose that old people are jealous of young people who have push and energy and are making legitimate headway towards the front ranks of their chosen callings. They are glad to see it; and would infinitely rather see it that way than to see young men wasting their time and energies in frivolous pursuits, or even worse forms of conduct. We may truthfully say, that it gives great pain to thoughtful people who see our young men, having good natural endowments of bodily health and strength and mental abilities capable of high attainments, and with ample opportunities for reaching them, yet see them allowing the clear and sunny days of golden opportunities to pass by unimproved and neglected. The mind is like that restless realm of roll and roar—the sea—that must move some way. So if not occupied with laudable employment it will do that which is worse, if not absolutely ruinous—not, perhaps, intentionally, but thoughtlessly, but none the less hurtfully. The law of conduct is as inexorable as other laws; and the penalties of idleness, neglect, perverseness and crime will as certainly overtake the offender as other penalties of nature.

Although the most blessed lot of woman, is that of a happy wife and mother, there is no reason why a single woman should grow cross and crabbed and snarled and wrinkled, a single woman, if lovely and lovable in character, may always find something about which her affection may entwine, and as for using her surplus energy, there is plenty of work in the world for those qualified to do it. In these days, with the numerous avenues of work open to women, it is not necessary for a single woman to grow old as a drudge in her sister's family with a compensation of board and cast-off clothing, as was formerly the case. She can now take care of herself, and be as well dressed and as highly respected as her married sister.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollar for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Thomas Hurn has a freak chicken. It was hatched last week and has four legs. The two extra legs are connected to the regular legs and the toes are turned in the opposite direction from the regular legs.—Greenup Republican.

Yancey Caskey, who some eight years ago killed a cousin named Tom Caskey, and has since been in West Liberty jail, was arraigned for trial Monday and Tuesday the jury was made up. It is said there are 100 or more witnesses and some claim that he will be hung, while others say he will come clear.

W. H. Scott received one day last week from an importer of Tamworth hogs in Woodford county, a three-year-old male hog, weight 800. Mr. Scott is making a specialty of this breed of hogs and the price he gets for pigs indicates that he is making a success of the venture. He bought a sow of about the same size last year from the same parties.

The lifeless body of the eleven year old son of L. P. Carter, of Huntington, was found in the Four Pole creek a short distance from where he was last seen by a companion who had been accompanying him. He was found by the father, who had not ceased to prosecute his efforts to discover the lad from the time he was missing until the painful find was made.

May and May are making active preparations to erect a large two story business block on the site of their present office building. The structure will be of brick with concrete foundation and will cost $7,900. The first floor will be for O. P. Power's hardware store and the second floor will be divided up into eight well lighted, well ventilated and spacious office rooms. Jack and Bill will superintend the construction of this modern business block themselves and they expect to have it completed and ready for occupancy by the first of December.—Prestonsburg Herald.

The Junior Order also lost regalia. The K. P.'s owned the building and had it insured for $800, but the loss was $1,800, which leaves them a net loss of $1,000, to say nothing of loss of lodge room while rebuilding.—Hazel Green Herald.

The temporary injunction secured by the town of Kernit by which the saloon of William Workman was closed as a nuisance, was dissolved on last Saturday by Judge John B. Wilkinson, at Huntington. Counsel for the town asked that a stay be granted, but this was refused, Judge Wilkinson holding that the town had no legal right to maintain the action. Another reason for his refusal was that no bond had been given.

Immediately after the decision was rendered Mr. Workman's saloon was reopened.

On last Friday night, a gang of masked "night walkers" bursted in upon Mrs. Lizza Taylor, a few miles above Hindman, and dragging her out in the darkness of the night they brutally abused her. According to her sworn statement, they criminally assaulted, forced her and otherwise abused her. She accused a lot of the neighbor boys in the heinous crime, and they were tried in Judge Napier's court here Monday, and all were acquitted except John Bentley, who held over by Judge Napier, on a $1000 bond.
